Synopsis

At the end of the clamorous 1991 eruption of the world's most infamous volcano, experts came together from all over the world, with the aim of diverting the lava flow away from the devastatingly populated surrounding areas of Etna.

Upon discovery of the lava caves, 3 years after the last eruption, we witness nature's incredulous creations.

We journey to several of them, discovering how the caves are now slowly giving way to a new life.
